SENIOR CLASS EXERCISES.

One of the most enjoyable occasions that was ever experienced by the class of 1906 was that of the class exercises on Washington's birthday, February 22nd. The day was lovely, the sun shone bright and it was one of those early spring days that makes a person feel as though he would like to live always. Langdon Hall was filled to its usual capacity on such occasions.

After an earnest invocation by Rev. C. C. Pugh and an introduction and a few valedictory remarks by President Geibel in his usual forceful manner, the regular program for the day was begun. The first item was the history of the class by Mr. J. M. Poyner. Our hearts swelled within us as we listened to our glorious past so ably told us by our worthy historian. It is generally a little monotonous to listen to a historical paper, especially so for those who are not directly concerned in it. But Mr. Poyner's paper was not merely a record of events and occurrences; it was full of striking "puns" and keen satire, so that all enjoyed it equally.

The next item proved to us that all the poets are not dead yet. It also showed us that Mr. Burton has a strong rival in verse making in the person of our co-ed, Miss Harrell. She fully captivated the audience with her lovely verses and the characteristic manner in which she delivered them. Had the cyclone which recently passed over Meridian, Miss., passed over Auburn at this time, it would have been unheeded in the storm of applause which she received.

After an excellent selection by the A. P. I. orchestra, Mr. M. A. Frazer arose amid hearty applause to deliver the oration of the occasion. He forcibly impressed upon us that we are living in an age of actions and deeds and that the class of 1906 will soon be expected to take her place among the activities. Mr. Frazer ably sustained his already enviable reputation as an orator.

After hearing the history of our class and hearing it satirized and immortalized, it now became our pleasure to take a glimpse into its future as related by our prophet, Shaffer Hood. It was marvellous how he could look into the distant future and tell of things which otherwise only time itself could reveal to us. We only hope that he was mistaken in some of his imaginations, while others would be truly gratifying to all. Mr. Hood shows himself fully competent to meet the usual anticipations and eagerness with which all await the prophecy.

The pleasurable of the occasion was greatly augmented by a few appropriate selections by the A. P. I. orchestra.

HOTLY CONTESTED CLASS FOOTBALL GAME JUNIOR AND FRESHMEN TEAMS MAKE A TIE

On Thursday, February 22nd, an enthusiastic crowd of spectators saw the Juniors and Freshmen play one of the prettiest games of football in the history of class athletics. The Juniors had the advantage of the Freshmen in weight, but were hardly as fast as the "rats." The day was exceedingly warm for a football game, although both teams stood the test in great shape. It looked as if the Freshmen would be easy winners at the beginning, but the Juniors managed to rally on their own half yard line and hold for downs. This was the only chance that either team had to score, the ball being rushed up and down the field, first in the hands of the Freshmen and then in the hands of the determined Juniors. After the Juniors took the ball from their opponents on the half yard line, they seemed to take new life and rushed the ball for a distance of about 60 yards before losing it on a fumble; this was the only time during the game that the Juniors had to score. The Freshmen were in much better physical condition than the Juniors, as all of their men were in good shape at the beginning. The feature of the game was the playing of Whittaker, left halfback for the Juniors. It would be safe to say that he alone saved the day for his team, at least two or three times. He was here, there and everywhere and made as many tackles as any two men together on the field. It would be well to state that he is a promising man for next year's varsity, and should make it if in good condition. Harris, B. E., played the best game for the Freshmen and probably gained more ground than any other man on either team. McEldery, Davis, G. C., Thaggard and Greene also played good ball. The game in detail is as follows:

Juniors.	Position.	Freshmen.
Greshamle....	Harris, G. L.
Thaggardlt.....	Gauntt
Lockelg.....	Moon
Sistrunk, R.c.....	Smith
and Holley.
Greenerg.....	Everett
Holley and Edgert....	Davis, J. G.
Burgessre.....	Naylor
Whiteqb.....	Eldery
Whittakerlhb.....	Wilson
Yorkfb....	Davis, G. C.
Watkins (captain)	..rhb.	Harris, B. E.
		captain.
Officials:	Lacey, E. P., referee;
Hill, W., umpire;	Hill, A., head lines-
man. Timekeepers:	Guerry and Den-
son. Time of halves,	20 minutes.

Capt. Watkins wins the toss and defends the east goal, choosing to receive the kick-off. Referee Lacey blew his whistle promptly at 3:15 and Smith kicks 35 yards to Watkins, who returns it 5. On the first play

Whittaker's interference is scattered to the winds and he is thrown for a loss of 5 yards. Greene is given the ball and he gains what Whittaker lost. Watkins drops back and punts 20 yards to McEldery, who fumbles, but recovers in time to gain 10 yards. The Freshmen begin their line hammering at once and Davis, G. C., plunges 4 yards through center. He gains 15 yards on a beautiful buck through same place. Wilson gets 1 1-2 yards off cross buck, Davis, G. C., gets 4 yards, Davis, J. G., gets 5 yards. Gauntt hits the line for 4 1-2 yards, placing the ball on the Junior half yard line. Davis, G. C., is tried, but fails to gain, and then the heavy Freshmen tackle, Davis, J. G., is entrusted with the skin, but strikes a stone wall, and when things were cleared up it was found that the Juniors had held the Freshmen for downs under their own goal posts. This was indeed a narrow escape for the Juniors, for if the Freshmen had scored it would have been all over but the "shouting." However, that little "if" is always in the way. This stand seems to have encouraged the Juniors and York is sent 6 long yards through the center, Locke 3 through the same place and then repeats for first down. Whittaker "snatches" off 8 yards on a cross-buck and Locke gets 4 straight ahead. Greene is pulled back and gets first down. Watkins chooses 10 on cross-buck and Greene gets 2 yards. Greene not being satisfied with such short gains, "raps" off 10 yards, Watkins gets 2 1-2, Greene 2, and Thaggard makes first down. Whittaker tears off 5 yards on cross-buck and Thaggard rips the line open for 6. York gets 2 and Whittaker 10. Thaggard gets 4 1-2 and repeats for first down. Watkins fails to gain. Holley fumbles and Naylor, the plucky Freshman end, nestles around the ball. Whittaker throws Harris for a loss of 2 1-2 yards, Davis, G. C. gains 2 1-2 and Harris punts 30 yards to White, who returns 5 yards. Locke gets 1-2 yard, White 1-2 yard, and on the next play the Freshmen take the ball. Davis, G. C., gets 2 1-2 yards and Harris "flits" around right end for 10 yards. Davis, G. C., gets 1 yard, Gauntt fails to gain. Here Harris fools the Junior team on a fake kick and gains 12 yards around right end. Harris, B. E., fails to gain on fake over right tackle. Wilson gets 4 yards and Davis, G. C., makes it first down. Wilson fails to gain over Whittaker, Harris, B. E., goes around right end for 12 yards. Harris, B. E., tries drop kick from 25 yard line, but misses. Locke plunges for 8 yards and time is up for the end of first half with the ball in possession of the Juniors on their own 10 yard line.

Score: Juniors, 0; Freshmen, 0.

Second Half.

Watkins kicks 35 yards to McEldery, who is downed in his tracks by Whittaker. Harris, B. E., gets 2 1-2 yards and Davis, G. C., makes first down. Wilson fails to gain over Gresham. Harris, B. E., makes first down around right end. Gauntt gets 4 1-2 yards, Davis, J. G., first down. Davis, J. G., 1 yard, Wilson 2 1-2 and Gauntt gets first down. Harris, B. E., loses 1 yard, but McEldery gains 15 yards on double pass around left end. Davis, G. C., fails to gain and McEldery loses 5 yards. Harris, B. E., fails to gain on fake kick and it is Juniors' ball, first down. Thaggard gets 2 yards, Whittaker fails to gain and Locke does likewise. Freshmen's ball. Davis, G. C., fumbles, but recovers, gaining 2 1-2 yards, Wilson makes first down. Harris, B. E., gets 10 yards around right end. Wilson gets 1 yard and Whittaker throws Wilson for loss of 1 yard. Harris punts 30 yards to White, who fumbles, but Watkins falls on ball. Watkins gets 4 1-2 yards and Greene gets first down. Watkins gets 1 yard, Greene 3 1-2, White fumbles and it is Freshmen's ball. Harris, B. E., gets 1 yard, Davis, G. C., 2 yards and Gauntt fails to make first down. Watkins gains 4 yards on neatly worked fake and repeats for 4 more. Whittaker fails to gain and then loses 4 yards on end run. Watkins punts 35 yards and Harris, B. E., returns 10. Wilson fumbles and York dives on the ball. Watkins gets 10 yards on fake. Locke fails to gain and Whittaker loses a yard. Watkins punts 38 yards out of bounds. Harris, B. E., gets 3 yards and repeats for first down. Harris, B. E., fumbles, but recovers, losing 3 yards. Wilson fails to gain and Harris punts 30 yards to White, who returns 5 yards. Whittaker gets 8 yards on fake. Watkins gets 10 yards on fake. White fumbles, but recovers. Locke fumbles and Gauntt falls on the ball. Harris, B. E., takes 4 yards around right end, being tackled in good shape by Whittaker. Davis, G. C., gets two yards, being "nailed" by Whittaker. Time is up for the end of the game, with the Freshmen in possession of the ball on their own 40 yard line. Score at end of game: Juniors, 0; Freshmen, 0.

February 22d! How glorious this day of days! If Washington could know what an influence his life is yet having upon the grandest nation on earth, he would be fully repaid for Valley Forge, for enemies at home and abroad. Let his birthday come as a trumpet call to every man to hold aloft the standard of right and duty.

THE BASEBALL FORECAST.

The baseball material has been thinned down so that a fair line can be had on the material. From the sixty that answered the call the squad has now been trimmed down to about thirty. The outlook may be said to be fairly promising. There are a number of new men that show possibilities, though whether they will be of much assistance this year or not is a question. There is one advantage over last year in that the players are better known, so that it should not take as long to select the team as it did last year. This will be of considerable help in getting the team work and inside baseball to running smoothly.

May's leaving college has necessitated the developing of another pitcher. For this position there are three possibilities—Miller, P. Weems and Jones. At present all three are showing up fairly well. Weems, captain, will pitch as well or better than he did last year. For the catcher's position the most promising is Hull, who catches and throws well, but whose batting will have to improve. The other most promising candidates for the infield are Skinner, Burgess, Tompkins, Jones, Smith and Young. Skinner and Burgess will probably be found on third and first, though Burgess may be called in to catch in case of necessity. The leading outfield candidate are Stanley, Steele, Alexander, Miller, Marks and McLemore. From these a trio ought to be obtained equal to the strong outfield of last year. Steele is at present suffering with a lame shoulder, which will probably round out all right. Stanley is fielding as well as last year and his batting, which was his chief weakness last year, promises to be one hundred per cent. better. Alexander and Miller are natural batters. Alexander's present weakness is a tendency to slug. Marks, McLemore and Schwartz show considerable promise.

The schedule is longer and harder than last year's. Seventeen college games are already contracted for. The hardest games will probably be with Georgia Tech. and Alabama. To win a majority of the games this year will necessitate the hardest kind of work on the part of the players and the most enthusiastic support on the part of the students.

Manager Foy has announced the following schedule and it is possible that other games will be arranged later:

March 26, 27, 28—Cumberland on campus.
April 6, 7—Mercer in Macon.
April 19, 20, 21—Alabama in Tusculum.
May 3, 4, 5—Greensburg on campus.
May 7—Cent. U. of Ky. on campus.
May 11, 12—Georgia Tech. in Atlanta (3 games).
May 14, 15—Mercer on campus.

The editors on the Glomorate Board are endeavoring to get all the pictures ready by March 31st. Don't delay the game.

On account of the election next Saturday night, the basketball game we had hoped to arrange with Columbus cannot be played.

"Billie" May, of last year's Auburn varsity nine, has reported to the Montgomery League team for work. Here's hoping Billie makes good.

Ancient King Bailey is to teach the Sewanee tigers the gentle art of handling the sphere and if experience counts for anything, they're "it."

The grading of the new athletic field is about finished and the sod will soon be put in so that it will be ready for the next football season.

This is the first month of spring but from the weather one would not think it. Never mind, bye and bye commencement will come, and then we'll have spring.

The football rules committee met in New York Saturday for its final action as to revision of rules and in our next issue we will endeavor to give the results of the meeting.

The class of '04 is getting out a catalogue of its members, giving their location, occupation and general information concerning each one. Other classes will do well to follow its example.

In a recent Panama edition of the Pensacola Journal one of the prominent articles was "Historic Pensacola," by J. E. D. Yonge, late of Auburn and the U. A. Ga., now of Columbia university.

The exercises of the Senior class were indeed creditable to the class and interesting to the audience. Each participant was well prepared and each aided in making the program one of the best ever at Auburn.

Our basket ball team has one more game scheduled with the Birmingham Athletic Club in Birmingham March 16th. Manager Hardie arranged a very successful and satisfactory schedule and the team has worked exceedingly well. The victory is theirs.

The end of the second term is near at hand, two-thirds of the year are gone, and "the end is not yet." In the midst of these examinations don't forget that others are to come; don't think that you can take things easy for a while, for if you do some of you may be serious again. Look to your laurels.

The result of the championship football game was indeed singular. A score of nothing to nothing on Thursday, followed by exactly the same on Saturday may give some hint of how interesting those games were. Coaches Wilkinson and Whitner for the Juniors and Jones for the Freshmen had coached their teams well and the result was something unprecedented in Auburn football history.

Our diamond is full of candidates for the nine and it does seem that of the large number out we should be able to make a team, and we think our prospects are good. Several new men are showing up well and give promise to fill successfully the places of those popular men whom we lost last spring.

The Senior banquet on Saturday evening, the 24th, at the Royal Hotel in Opelika, was a new departure for the Polytechnic Institute. Men must learn to take their places in the world, and the fate of nations has been decided at the dinner table. There may be no Talleyrands or Metterlinck at the A. P. I., but periods of higher diplomacy than those in which they figured may be awaiting some of her modest sons.

It has been remarked that the class exercises were the best in the history of the college. Miss Harrell's poem was particularly good and was delivered gracefully.

Mr. Hood's prophecy had a realistic tang that set one thinking.

Mr. Poyner's history was a good piece of literary work.

Mr. Frazer is a born orator who will forego an LL.D. to shine as an M. D.

Mr. Gibel is a man who realizes the dignity of life, and his address was full of choice thought.

The football game between the Juniors and Freshmen was the event of the afternoon of the 22d. Each team was on the field promptly with all the pomp and ceremony of carriages, colors and sponsors, and a host of enthusiastic rooters.

Then came the tug of war. At the end of the first half no score had been made, though the Freshmen had come so near the goal, and at the close of the game still no score but with a slight advantage for the Juniors.

The game was repeated Saturday with the same result, so it was finally decided to put the pictures of both teams in the Glomorate, an honor heretofore held for winning teams only.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY DANCES.

Week before last was indeed one of entertainment and enjoyment. A basketball game, two football games, the annual oratorical contest and Senior exercises were all well attended and enjoyed. But no feature of the week's pleasure was more delightful than the dances.

As usual the gymnasium was employed and never has the floor been in better shape. Music was furnished the first two nights by the Tuskegee orchestra, but the last night far better selections were rendered by our own orchestra, and in future there should be no occasion for sending away for music when we have such good talent at home.

The number of ladies present was not as large as we should have liked but they certainly made up in quality for the lack of quantity, for all were graceful dancers. We are trusting that they will be again in Auburn at Commencement.

The first was the Junior hop, given by the Junior German club. Wednesday night, Feb. 21st, Mr. Dan Wilkerson was the leader.

The Sophomore-Freshman basketball game was played before the dance began and a large crowd of spectators remained to look on at the dancing. There were a good many stags on hand, and as a result none of the boys could get very many numbers. Owing to a very late start the full program could not be carried through. It would be two large a task to name the young men but the following ladies were present:

Misses Ione and Derrell aBrnes and Miss Mary Cowan, of Opelika; Miss Hayes, of Louisville, and Misses Wills, Harvey, Thach, Harrell and Averyt of Auburn. Prof. and Mrs. Mitcham chaperoned.

Thursday being Senior day, it was very appropriate for them to entertain that night, and this they did in delightful style.

Mr. Dupont Guerry, who leads anything from the german to the commencement hop, acted in the capacity of leader. The same young ladies were present and an equally large crowd of gentlemen. Just as the previous night, the start was late and last dances were very short, but everybody had the greatest sort of a time.

But the acme of delightfulness was reached Friday night at the T. N. E. hop. The floor was in better shape than the previous nights and much better music was on hand. Not so many stags were present and as the same number of young ladies attended, it was much better than at the Junior and Senior hops. Mr. R. P. Boyd was the leader and as in everything he acquitted himself with credit. A large number of ladies were present who did not dance. Mrs. Averyt and Mrs. Mitcham were the chaperones. Every one went away declaring that, though they had been to larger dances, never had they been to one more thoroughly enjoyable and it was a fitting close to a very pleasant holiday.

"It was about a girl, but he did not mean any harm."

"About a girl?"

"Yes, the fellow's arm."

This is the first month of spring but from the weather one would not think it. Never mind, bye and bye commencement will come, and then we'll have spring.

The football rules committee met in New York Saturday for its final action as to revision of rules and in our next issue we will endeavor to give the results of the meeting.

The class of '04 is getting out a catalogue of its members, giving their location, occupation and general information concerning each one. Other classes will do well to follow its example.

In a recent Panama edition of the Pensacola Journal one of the prominent articles was "Historic Pensacola," by J. E. D. Yonge, late of Auburn and the U. A. Ga., now of Columbia university.

The exercises of the Senior class were indeed creditable to the class and interesting to the audience. Each participant was well prepared and each aided in making the program one of the best ever at Auburn.

Our basket ball team has one more game scheduled with the Birmingham Athletic Club in Birmingham March 16th. Manager Hardie arranged a very successful and satisfactory schedule and the team has worked exceedingly well. The victory is theirs.

The end of the second term is near at hand, two-thirds of the year are gone, and "the end is not yet." In the midst of these examinations don't forget that others are coming. I think that you can take things easy for a while, for if you do some of you may be serious again. Look to your laurels.

The result of the championship football game was indeed singular. A score of nothing to nothing on Thursday, followed by exactly the same on Saturday may give some hint of how interesting those games were. Coaches Wilkinson and Whitner for the Juniors and Jones for the Freshmen had coached their teams well and the result was something unprecedented in Auburn football history.

Our diamond is full of candidates for the nine and it does seem that of the large number out we should be able to make a team, and we think our prospects are good. Several new men are showing up well and give promise to fill successfully the places of those popular men whom we lost last spring.

The Senior banquet on Saturday evening, the 24th, at the Royal Hotel in Opelika, was a new departure for the Polytechnic Institute. Men must learn to take their places in the world, and the fate of nations has been decided at the dinner table. There may be no Talleyrands or Metterlinck at the A. P. I., but periods of higher diplomacy than those in which they figured may be awaiting some of her modest sons.

It has been remarked that the class exercises were the best in the history of the college. Miss Harrell's poem was particularly good and was delivered gracefully.

Mr. Hood's prophecy had a realistic tang that set one thinking.

Mr. Poyner's history was a good piece of literary work.

Mr. Frazer is a born orator who will forego an LL.D. to shine as an M. D.

Mr. Gibel is a man who realizes the dignity of life, and his address was full of choice thought.

The football game between the Juniors and Freshmen was the event of the afternoon of the 22d. Each team was on the field promptly with all the pomp and ceremony of carriages, colors and sponsors, and a host of enthusiastic rooters.

Then came the tug of war. At the end of the first half no score had been made, though the Freshmen had come so near the goal, and at the close of the game still no score but with a slight advantage for the Juniors.

The game was repeated Saturday with the same result, so it was finally decided to put the pictures of both teams in the Glomerata, an honor heretofore held for winning teams only.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY DANCES.

As usual the gymnasium was employed and never has the floor been in better shape. SENIOR CLASS BANQUET.

One of the most unique and withal highly enjoyable occasions of the mid-winter season was the banquet of the Senior class on Saturday evening, February 24th.

The Senior class of 1906 had determined to make their banquet a perfection of royal pleasure. To this end nothing was left off that would heighten the enjoyment and make young hearts glad.

The dining halls of the Royal hotel of Opelika were made luminous under the glare and glow of electric lights, and the mingling of mid-winter ferns and evergreens. Such a scene as was presented when were gathered the handsome Seniors was enough to make the older "boys" wish they were young again.

With hearts care free and with their souls filled with the jubilant enthusiasm of youth; with their first lessons learned and all future lessons cast to the winds, the young statesmen of the future gathered in the spacious halls and wooed the witcheries of the goddess of pleasure.

Mid the maddening mazes of mirth and where even love's young dream of future fame and fortune held them bound, these sedate Seniors became light hearted and free and into a realm of fun they drifted up into the noon-tide of the night.

The menu for the occasion, so tactfully conceived, tastefully arranged and skillfully executed, reflected much credit on the Royal hotel management, who have the happy habit of doing such things perfectly.

Following is the menu:

Oyster Cocktail
Kalamazoo Celery Queen Olives
Pickles
Tennessee Turkey, Currant Jelly
Broiled Quail on Toast
Sweetbread Croquettes
French Peas in Cases
Saratoga Chips
Claret Punch
Chicken salad, en Mayonnaise
Sliced Tomatoes and Lettuce
Tuti Frutti Ice Cream
Assorted Cake
Cheese Saltines
Coffee Cigars Murad Cigarettes
Gal TEN orange and blue
Huyler's Peppermints

DuPont Guerri, Jr., was toast master and toasts were responded to by the following popular members of the class:

Frederick Emanuel Geibel, Class of '06.
Henry Madison Averyt, The Ladies.
Otis DeWit Alsobrook, Athletics.
Casper Carl Certain, Auburn Days.
John Augustus Miller, Our Future.
Old Father Time on his great recording scroll will mark down for future unfolding the banquet of the class of 1906 of the A. P. I.

For each member it is enough to say:

May that night's pleasure be but a token of all good things and true that come to each of you in the tideless years that follow.—Opelika Post.

AN ENJOYABLE OCCASION.

The lecture prepared by Dr. George Petrie for the Light Horse Harry Lee chapter, D. A. R., was given Monday evening at the home of Miss Annie L. Dillard. Benjamin Franklin was a great man of revolutionary times and a great man of any time, or country or age, and with him for the topic and Dr. Petrie for the lecturer, one cannot imagine a more enjoyable occasion not only for a patriotic daughter but for the most accomplished scholar.

The very stormy evening prevented many who were invited from being present. Owing to this fact it is earnestly hoped that Dr. Petrie can be prevailed upon to repeat Ben Franklin at an early date.—Opelika Post.

Col. R. J. Redding, director of the Georgia experiment station, addressed the farmers' institute held in Auburn on the 20th ult. His subject was "Cotton Growing." Mr. J. E. Wing, of Ohio, talked on various topics.

The Inter-Frat. T. N. E. gave a hop on the evening of Friday the 23d at the gymnasium. The smooth and spacious floor, the fine orchestra, the lovely girls, the handsome men and the gallery with interested spectators, made up a scene of gaiety rarely surpassed.

"And when music arose with its voluptuous swell

Soft eyes looked love to eyes that spoke again,

An dall went merry as a marriage bell."

The grand march was led by Mr. Platt Boyd and Miss Emma Harvey.

When the time for the final dance was over the orchestra received several encores and in response short and sweet snatches were given, and at last, but lingeringly, all had to say farewell to the most joyous occasion of the winter's festivities.

CLASS BASKETBALL GAME.

One the night of Feb. 21 the Sophomores and Freshmen met in the first class basketball game of the season. The line-up was as follows:

Soph.	Fresh.
Gibson	Anders
Partridge	Crocker
Moore	Culverhouse
Bradford	Epping
Smith	Richardson

The two teams had little practice and the Sophomores had a little advantage over the Freshmen by virtue of the fact that two of their members were varsity "subs" and in fine condition, while the Freshmen were in a crude condition. Considering the short time in which to practice, both teams played well and the game was exciting and interesting. For the Sophomores Moore and Gibson were the highest and shining stars, playing consistently the entire game, Moore being especially proficient in throwing goals. For the Freshmen the honors rest upon Anders and Epping, both showing good form throughout. At the beginning the Freshmen took the lead, holding this position for some time, but by steady work the Sophomores forged ahead and the final score was 17 to 10. The next game will be played between the Seniors and Freshmen at an early date, followed by the championship game in about three weeks.

Juniors and Freshmen Tie Again.

On Saturday, February 24th, the Juniors and Freshmen met the second time in order to untie the knot that they tied February 22nd. The game was much the same as the first one, and it is not necessary to give a detailed account of it. As the thing stands now, both teams can wear their numerals and they should consider that one of their greatest honors. The feature of the game was Whittaker's defensive playing and Lacey's bucking in the second half for the Juniors, while Harris, R. H., carried off the honors for the Freshmen. Score, 6 to 6.

SENIOR CLASS EXERCISES.

One of the most enjoyable occasions that was ever experienced by the class of 1906 was that of the class exercises on Washington's birthday, February 22nd. The day was lovely, the sun shone bright and it was one of those early spring days that makes a person feel as though he would like to live always. Langdon Hall was filled to its usual capacity on such occasions.

After an earnest invocation by Rev. C. C. Pugh and an introduction and a few valedictory remarks by President Geibel in his usual forceful manner, the regular program for the day was begun. The first item was the history of the class by Mr. J. M. Poyner. Our hearts swelled within us as we listened to our glorious past so ably told us by our worthy historian. It is generally a little monotonous to listen to a historical paper, especially so for those who are not directly concerned in it. But Mr. Poyner's paper was not merely a record of events and occurrences; it was full of striking "puns" and keen satire, so that all enjoyed it equally.

The next item proved to us that all the poets are not dead yet. It also showed us that Mr. Burton has a strong rival in verse making in the person of our co-ed., Miss Harrell. She fully captivated the audience with her lovely verses and the characteristic manner in which she delivered them. Had the cyclone which recently passed over Meridian, Miss., passed over Auburn at this time, it would have been unheeded in the storm of applause which she received.

After an excellent selection by the A. P. I. orchestra, Mr. M. A. Frazer arose amid hearty applause to deliver the oration of the occasion. He forcibly impressed upon us that we are living in an age of actions and deeds and that the class of 1906 will soon be expected to take her place among the activities. Mr. Frazer ably sustained his already enviable reputation as an orator.

After hearing the history of our class and hearing it satirized and immortalized, it now became our pleasure to take a glimpse into its future as related by our prophet, Shaffer Hood. It was marvellous how he could look into the distant future and tell of things which otherwise only time itself could reveal to us. We only hope that he was mistaken in some of his imaginations, while others would be truly gratifying to all. Mr. Hood shows himself fully competent to meet the usual anticipations and eagerness with which all await the prophecy.

The pleasurable of the occasion was greatly augmented by a few appropriate selections by the A. P. I. orchestra.

On Thursday, February 22nd, an enthusiastic crowd of spectators saw the Juniors and Freshmen play one of the prettiest games of football in the history of class athletics. The Juniors had the advantage of the Freshmen in weight, but were hardly as fast as the "rats." The day was exceedingly warm for a football game, although both teams stood the test in great shape. It looked as if the Freshmen would be easy winners at the beginning, but the Juniors managed to rally on their own half yard line and hold for downs. This was the only chance that either team had to score, the ball being rushed up and down the field, first in the hands of the Freshmen and then in the hands of the determined Juniors. After the Juniors took the ball from their opponents on the half yard line, they seemed to take new life and rushed the ball for a distance of about 60 yards before losing it on a fumble; this was the only time during the game that the Juniors had to score.

The Freshmen were in much better physical condition than the Juniors, as all of their men were in good shape at the beginning. The feature of the game was the playing of Whittaker, left halfback for the Juniors. It would be safe to say that he alone saved the day for his team, at least two or three times. He was here, there and everywhere and made as many tackles as any two men together on the field. It would be well to state that he is a promising man for next year's varsity, and should make it if in good condition. Harris, B. E., played the best game for the Freshmen and probably gained more ground than any other man on either team. McEldery, Davis, G. C., Thaggard and Greene also played good ball. The game in detail is as follows:

Juniors.	Position.	Freshmen.
Greshamle....	Harris, G. L.
Thaggardlt.....	Gauntt
Lockelg.....	Moon
Sistrunk, R.c.....	Smith
and Holley.

Greenerg.....	Everett
Holley and Edgert....	Davis, J. G.
Burgessre.....	Naylor
Whiteqb.....	Eldery
Whittakerlhb.....	Wilson
Yorkfb....	Davis, G. C.
Watkins (captain)rbh.	Harris, B. E.

Officials: Lacey, E. P., referee; Hill, W., umpire; Hill, A., head line-man. Timekeepers: Guerry and Donson. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

Capt. Watkins wins the toss and defends the east goal, choosing to receive the kick-off. Referee Lacey blew his whistle promptly at 2:15 and Smith kicks 35 yards to Watkins, who returns it 5. On the first play

Whittaker's interference is scattered to the winds and he is thrown for a loss of 5 yards. Greene is given the ball and he gains what Whittaker lost. Watkins drops back and punts 20 yards to McEldery, who fumbles, but recovers in time to gain 10 yards. The Freshmen begin their line hammering at once and Davis, G. C., plunges 4 yards through center. He gains 15 yards on a beautiful buck through same place. Wilson gets 1 1-2 yards on cross buck, Davis, G. C., gets 4 yards, Davis, J. G., gets 5 yards. Gauntt hits the line for 4 1-2 yards, placing the ball on the Junior half yard line. Davis, G. C., is tried, but fails to gain, and then the heavy Freshmen tackle, Davis, J. G., is entrusted with the skin, but strikes a stone wall, and when things were cleared up it was found that the Juniors had held the Freshmen for downs under their own goal posts. This was indeed a narrow escape for the Juniors, for if the Freshmen had scored it would have been all over but the shouting.

Little "if" is always in the way. This stand seems to have encouraged the Juniors and York is sent 6 long yards through the center, Locke 3 through the same place and then repeats for first down. Whittaker "snatches" off 8 yards on a cross-buck and Locke gets 4 straight ahead. Greene is pulled back and gets first down. Watkins chooses 10 on cross-buck and Greene gets 2 yards. Greene not being satisfied with such short gains, "raps" off 10 yards, Watkins gets 2 1-2, Greene 2, and Thaggard makes first down. Whittaker tears off 5 yards on cross-buck and Thaggard rips the line open for 6. York gets 2 and Whittaker 10. Thaggard gets 4 1-2 and repeats for first down. Watkins fails to gain. Holley fumbles and Naylor, the plucky Freshman end, nestles around the ball. Whittaker throws Harris for a loss of 2 1-2 yards, Davis, G. C. gains 2 1-2 and Harris punts 30 yards to White, who returns 5 yards. Locke gets 1-2 yard, White 1-2 yard, and on the next play the Freshmen take the ball. Davis, G. C., gets 2 1-2 yards and Harris "flits" around right end for 10 yards. Davis, G. C., gets 1 yard, Gauntt fails to gain. Here Harris fools the Junior team on a fake kick and gains 12 yards around right end. Harris, B. E., fails to gain on fake over right tackle. Wilson gets 4 yards and Davis, G. C., makes it first down. Wilson fails to gain over Whittaker, Harris, B. E., goes around right end for 12 yards. Harris, B. E., tries drop kick from 35 yard line, but misses. Locke plunges for 3 yards and time is up for the end of first half with the ball in possession of the Juniors on their own 10 yard line.

Score: Juniors, 0; Freshmen, 0.

Second Half.

Watkins kicks 35 yards to McEldery, who is downed in his tracks by Whittaker. Harris, B. E., gets 1-2 yards and Davis, G. C., makes first down. Wilson fails to gain over Gresham. Harris, B. E., makes first down around right end. Gauntt gets 4 1-2 yards, Davis, J. G., first down. Davis, J. G., 1 yard, Wilson 2 1-2 and Gauntt gets first down. Harris, B. E., loses 1 yard, but McEldery gains 15 yards on double pass around left end. Davis, G. C., fails to gain and McEldery loses 5 yards. Harris, B. E., fails to gain on fake kick and it is Juniors' ball, first down. Thaggard gets 2 yards, Whittaker fails to gain and Locke does likewise. Freshmen's ball. Davis, G. C., fumbles, but recovers, gaining 2 1-2 yards, Wilson makes first down. Harris, B. E., gets 10 yards around right end. Wilson gets 1 yard and Whittaker throws Wilson for loss of 1 yard. Harris punts 30 yards to White, who fumbles, but Watkins falls on ball. Watkins gets 4 1-2 yards and Greene gets first down. Watkins gets 1 yard, Greene 3 1-2, White fumbles and it is Freshmen's ball. Harris, B. E., gets 1 yard, Davis, G. C., 2 yards and Gauntt fails to make first down. Watkins gains 4 yards on neatly worked fake and repeats for 4 more. Whittaker fails to gain and then loses 4 yards on end run. Watkins punts 35 yards and Harris, B. E., returns 10. Wilson fumbles and York dives on the ball. Watkins gets 10 yards on fake. Locke fails to gain and Whittaker loses a yard. Watkins punts 38 yards out of bounds. Harris, B. E., gets 3 yards and repeats for first down. Harris, B. E., fumbles, but recovers, losing 3 yards. Wilson fails to gain and Harris punts 30 yards to White, who returns 5 yards. Whittaker gets 8 yards on fake. Watkins gets 10 yards on fake. White fumbles, but recovers. Locke fumbles and Gauntt falls on the ball. Harris, B. E., takes 4 yards around right end, being tackled in good shape by Whittaker. Davis, G. C., gets two yards, being "nailed" by Whittaker. Time is up for the end of the game, with the Freshmen in possession of the ball on their own 40 yard line. Score at end of game: Juniors, 0; Freshmen, 0.

February 22d! How glorious this day of days! If Washington, could know what an influence his life is yet having upon the grandest nation on earth, he would be fully repaid for Valley Forge, for enemies at home and abroad. Let his birthday come as a trumpet call to every man to hold aloft the standard of right and duty.

THE BASEBALL FORECAST.

The baseball material has been thinned down so that a fair line can be had on the material. From the sixty that answered the call the squad has now been trimmed down to about thirty. The outlook may be said to be fairly promising. There are a number of new men that show possibilities, though whether they will be of much assistance this year or not is a question. There is one advantage over last year in that the players are better known, so that it should not take as long to select the team as it did last year. This will be of considerable help in getting the team work and inside baseball to running smoothly.

May's leaving college has necessitated the developing of another pitcher. For this position there are three possibilities—Miller, P. Weems and Jones. At present all three are showing up fairly well. Weems, captain, will pitch as well or better than he did last year. For the catcher's position the most promising is Hull, who catches and throws well, but whose batting will have to improve.

The other most promising candidates for the infield are Skinner, Burgess, Tompkins, Jones, Smith and Young. Skinner and Burgess will probably be found on third and first, though Burgess may be called in to catch in case of necessity. The leading outfield candidate are Stanley, Steele, Alexander, Miller, Marks and McLemore. From these a trio ought to be obtained equal to the strong outfield of last year. Steele is at present suffering with a lame shoulder, which will probably round out all right. Stanley is fielding as well as last year and his batting, which was his chief weakness last year, promises to be one hundred per cent. better. Alexander and Miller are natural batters. Alexander's present weakness is a tendency to slug. Marks, McLemore and Schwartz show considerable promise.

The schedule is longer and harder than last year's. Seventeen college games are already contracted for. The hardest games will probably be with Georgia Tech. and Alabama. To win a majority of the games this year will necessitate the hardest kind of work on the part of the players and the most enthusiastic support on the part of the students.

Manager Foy has announced the following schedule and it is possible that other games will be arranged later:

March 26, 27, 28—Cumberland on campus.
April 6, 7—Mercer in Macon.
April 19, 20, 21—Alabama in Tuscaloosa.
May 2, 4, 5—Greensburg on campus.
May 7—Cent. U. of Ky. on campus.
May 11, 12—Georgia Tech. in Atlanta (3 games).
May 14, 15—Moree on campus.

The grading of the new athletic field is about finished and the sod will soon be put in so that it will be ready for the next football season.

This is the first month of spring but from the weather one would not think it. Never mind, bye and bye commencement will come, and then we'll have spring.

The football rules committee met in New York Saturday for its final action as to revision of rules and in our next issue we will endeavor to give the results of the meeting.

The class of '04 is getting out a catalogue of its members, giving their location, occupation and general information concerning each one. Other classes will do well to follow its example.

In a recent Panama edition of the Pensacola Journal one of the prominent articles was "Historic Pensacola," by J. E. D. Yonge, late of Auburn and the U. A. Ga., now of Columbia university.

The exercises of the Senior class were indeed creditable to the class and interesting to the audience. Much participant was well prepared and each aided in making the program one of the best ever at Auburn.

Our basket ball team has one more game scheduled with the Birmingham Athletic Club in Birmingham March 16th. Manager Hardie arranged a very successful and satisfactory schedule and the team has worked exceedingly well. The victory is theirs.

The end of the second term is near at hand, two-thirds of the year are gone, and "the end is not yet." In the midst of these examinations don't forget that others are to come; don't think that you can take things easy for a while, for if you do some of you may be serious again. Look to your laurels.

The result of the championship football game was indeed singular. A score of nothing to nothing on Thursday, followed by exactly the same on Saturday may give some hint of how interesting those games were. Coaches Wilkinson and Whitner for the Juniors and Jones for the Freshmen had coached their teams well and the result was something unprecedented in Auburn football history.

Our diamond is full of candidates for the nine and it does seem that of the large number out we should be able to make a team, and we think our prospects are good. Several new men are showing up well and give promise to fill successfully the places of those popular men whom we lost last spring.

The Senior banquet on Saturday evening, the 24th, at the Royal Hotel in Opelika, was a new departure for the Polytechnic Institute. Men must learn to take their places in the world, and the fate of nations has been decided at the dinner table. There may be no Talleyrands or Metterlinck at the A. P. I., but periods of higher diplomacy than those in which they figured may be awaiting some of her modest sons.

It has been remarked that the class exercises were the best in the history of the college. Miss Harrell's poem was particularly good and was delivered gracefully.

Mr. Hood's prophecy had a realistic tang that set one thinking.

Mr. Poyner's history was a good piece of literary work.

Mr. Frazer is a born orator who will forego an LL.D. to shine as an M. D.

Mr. Gibel is a man who realizes the dignity of life, and his address was full of choice thought.

The football game between the Juniors and Freshmen was the event of the afternoon of the 22d. Each team was on the field promptly with all the pomp and ceremony of carriages, colors and sponsors, and a host of enthusiastic rooters.

Then came the tug of war. At the end of the first half no score had been made, though the Freshmen had come so near the goal, and at the close of the game still no score but with a slight advantage for the Juniors.

The game was repeated Saturday with the same result, so it was finally decided to get the pictures of both teams in the Glomorate, an honor heretofore held for winning teams only.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY DANCES.

Week before last was indeed one of entertainment and enjoyment. A basketball game, two football games, the annual oratorical contest and Senior exercises were all well attended and enjoyed. But no feature of the week's pleasure was more delightful than the dances.

As usual the gymnasium was employed and never has the floor been in better shape. Music was furnished the first two nights by the Tuskegee orchestra, but the last night far better selections were rendered by our own orchestra, and in future there should be no occasion for sending away for music when we have such good talent at home.

The number of ladies present was not as large as we should have liked but they certainly made up in quality for the lack of quantity, for all were graceful dancers. We are trusting that they will be again in Auburn at Commencement.

The first was the Junior hop, given by the Junior German club. Wednesday night, Feb. 21st, Mr. Dan Wilkerson was the leader.

The Sophomore-Freshman basketball game was played before the dance began and a large crowd of spectators remained to look on at the dancing. There were a good many stags on hand, and as a result none of the boys could get very many numbers. Owing to a very late start the full program could not be carried through. It would be two large a task to name the young men but the following ladies were present:

Misses Ione and Derrell aBnes and Miss Mary Cowan, of Opelika; Miss Hayes, of Nashville, and Misses Wilk, Phach, Harrell and Averyt, of Auburn. Prof. and Mrs. Mitcham chaperoned.

Thursday being Senior day, it was very appropriate for them to entertain that night, and this they did in delightful style.

Mr. Dupont Guerry, who leads anything from the german to the commencement hop, acted in the capacity of leader. The same young ladies were present and an equally large crowd of gentlemen. Just as the previous night, the start was late and last dances were very short, but everybody had the greatest sort of a time.

But the acme of delightfulness was reached Friday night at the T. N. E. hop. The floor was in better shape than the previous nights and much better music was on hand. Not so many stags were present and as the same number of young ladies attended, it was much better than at the Junior and Senior hops. Mr. R. P. Boyd was the leader and as in everything he acquitted himself with credit. A large number of ladies were present who did not dance. Mrs. Averyt and Mrs. Mitcham were the chaperones. Every one went away declaring that, though they had been to larger dances, never had they been to one more thoroughly enjoyable and it was a fitting close to a very pleasant holiday.

"It was about a girl, but he did not mean any harm."

"About a girl?"

"Yes, the fellow's arm."

At last Whitner is a society man. Just what I expected.

AN ENJOYABLE OCCASION.

The lecture prepared by Dr. George Petrie for the Light Horse Harry Lee chapter, D. A. R., was given Monday evening at the home of Miss Annie L. Dillard. Benjamin Franklin was a great man of revolutionary times and a great man of any time, or country or age, and with him for the topic and Dr. Petrie for the lecturer, one cannot imagine a more enjoyable occasion not only for a patriotic daughter but for the most accomplished scholar.

The very stormy evening prevented many who were invited from being present. Owing to this fact it is earnestly hoped that Dr. Petrie can be prevailed upon to repeat Ben Franklin at an early date.—Opelika Post.

SENIOR CLASS BANQUET.

One of the most unique and withal highly enjoyable occasions of the mid-winter season was the banquet of the Senior class on Saturday evening, February 24th.

The Senior class of 1906 had determined to make their banquet a perfection of royal pleasure. To this end nothing was left off that would heighten the enjoyment and make young hearts glad.

The dining halls of the Royal hotel of Opelika were made luminous under the glare and glow of electric lights, and the mingling of mid-winter ferns and evergreens. Such a scene as was presented when were gathered the handsome Seniors was enough to make the older "boys" wish they were young again.

With hearts care free and with their souls filled with the jubilant enthusiasm of youth; with their first lessons learned and all future lessons cast to the winds, the young statesmen of the future gathered in the spacious halls and wooed the witcheries of the goddess of pleasure.

Mid the maddening mazes of mirth and where even love's young dream of future fame and fortune held them bound, these sedate Seniors became light hearted and free and into a realm of fun they drifted up into the noon-tide of the night.

The menu for the occasion, so tactfully conceived, tastefully arranged and skillfully executed, reflected much credit on the Royal hotel management, who have the happy habit of doing such things perfectly.

Following is the menu:

- Oyster Cocktail
- Kalamazoo Celery
- Queen Olives
- Pickles
- Tennessee Turkey, Currant Jelly
- Broiled Quail on Toast
- Sweetbread Croquettes
- French Peas in Cases
- Saratoga Chips
- Claret Punch
- Chicken salad, en Mayonnaise
- Sliced Tomatoes and Lettuce
- Tuti Frutti Ice Cream

- Cheese
- Saltines
- Coffee
- Cigars
- Murad Cigarettes
- Gal TEN orange and blue

Huyler's Peppermints

DuPont Guerri, Jr., was toast master and toasts were responded to by the following popular members of the class:

- Frederick Emanuel Geibel, Class of '06.
- Henry Madison Averyt, The Ladies.
- Otis DeWit Alsobrook, Athletics.
- Casper Carl Certain, Auburn Days.
- John Augustus Miller, Our Future.
- Old Father Time on his great recording scroll will mark down for future unfolding the banquet of the class of 1906 of the A. P. I.

For each member it is enough to say:

May that night's pleasure be but a token of all good things and true that come to each of you in the tideless years that follow.—Opelika Post.

Sam Weems and "King" Lyell went to Montgomery to have their eyes treated a few days ago, and incidentally Mr. Weems made a trip home. Mr. Lyell returned, having been much benefitted by Dr. Thigpen's treatment.

E. P. Davis made a business trip to Birmingham. He has returned and it is now taking a special course in meat inspection. (But not for Auburn beef!)

C. W. Jones and R. R. Wright of West Blockton, Ala., have not yet returned to college after going to Birmingham and standing state board examinations in pharmacy.

Col. R. J. Redding, director of the Georgia experiment station, addressed the farmers' institute held in Auburn on the 20th ult. His subject was "Cotton Growing." Mr. J. E. Wing, of Ohio, talked on various topics.

The Inter-Frat. T. N. E. gave a hop on the evening of Friday the 23d at the gymnasium. The smooth and spacious floor, the fine orchestra, the lovely girls, the handsome men and the gallery with interested spectators, made up a scene of gaiety rarely surpassed.

"And when music arose with its voluptuous swell

Soft eyes looked love to eyes that spoke again,

An dall went merry as a marriage bell."

The grand march was led by Mr. Platt Boyd and Miss Emma Harvey.

When the time for the final dance was over the orchestra received several encores and in response short and sweet snatches were given, and at last, but lingeringly, all had to say farewell to the most joyous occasion of the winter's festivities.

CLASS BASKETBALL GAME.

One the night of Feb. 21 the Sophomores and Freshmen met in the first class basketball game of the season. The line-up was as follows:

Soph.	Fresh.
Gibsonc..... Anders
Partridger f..... Croker
Mooref..... Culverhouse
Bradfordr g..... Epping
Smithl g..... Richardson

The two teams had little practice and the Sophomores had a little advantage over the Freshmen by virtue of the fact that two of their members were varsity "subs" and in fine condition, while the Freshmen were in a crude condition. Considering the short time in which to practice, both teams played well and the game was exciting and interesting. For the Sophomores Moore and Gibson were the highest and shining stars, playing consistently the entire game, Moore being especially proficient in throwing goals. For the Freshmen the honors rest upon Anders and Epping, both showing good form throughout. At the beginning the Freshmen took the lead, holding this position for some time, but by steady work the Sophomores forged ahead and the final score was 17 to 10. The next game will be played between the Seniors and Freshmen at an early date, followed by the championship game in about three weeks.

Juniors and Freshmen Tie Again.

On Saturday, February 24th, the Juniors and Freshmen met the second time in order to untie the knot that they tied February 22nd. The game was much the same as the first one, and it is not necessary to give a detailed account of it. As the thing stands now, both teams can wear their numerals and they should consider that one of their greatest honors. The feature of the game was Whittaker's defensive playing and Lacey's bucking in the second half for the Juniors, while Morris, R. H. carried off the honors for the Freshmen. Score, 9 to 9.
